

Kristina Mullamaa

Tartu University Language Centre

Näituse 2
51003 Tartu
Estonia

Tel: +372 7 375 357

Fax +372 7 375 357

Email: kristina.mullamaa@ut.ee

Web: www.ut.ee

Kristina Mullamaa has been teaching English and Swedish at the University of Tartu, Estonia, since 1996. Since 2008 she works as a lecturer of English.

Kristina Mullamaa studied at Tartu University, where she completed an MA cum laude in English language and literature 2000 and an MA in European Studies in 2004.

Kristina Mullamaa has also studied at Uppsala University (1996) and Stockholm University in Sweden (1998, 2001) and Universitat Rovira i Virgili in Tarragona, Spain (DEA, 2005).

In addition to teaching at the university, Kristina has also participated in the ERLEX project, which focuses on compiling and editing the comprehensive Swedish-Estonian dictionary (Publishing house Valgus 2004) and the comprehensive Estonian-Swedish dictionary (Publishing house Valgus, in press).

In 2006 Kristina Mullamaa defended her doctoral thesis on the self-descriptions of liaison interpreters (PhD in English language and literature).

Her research interests include personal and professional roles, cross-cultural issues, modern language learning methodologies, e-learning, motivation and ethics.